

CVs of the Panel Members at the Russia Conference at Christiansborg 2012

Per Stig Møller: Dr. Phil. in comparative literature, formerly employed by Berlingske Media and the Danish Broadcasting Corporation, associate professor at Sorbonne; a member of the Danish Parliament for the Conservative Party since 1984, has held a number of ministerial offices, e.g. Minister for the Environment, Minister of Foreign Affairs (2001-2010), Minister for Culture and Ecclesiastical Affairs. Author of several works on literary, philosophical, social and political subjects.

Karsten Fledelius: MA, senior lecturer at Copenhagen University, historian, media researcher, author and debater, expert on the Balkans and Russia, adviser on the history and social conditions of the Balkans in the net edition of the Great Danish Encyclopedia, tourist guide, organizer of exhibitions, church grass root, since 2005 chairman of the Danish-Russian Association, since 2007 chairman of the Danish Helsinki Committee, honorary consul for Bosnia-Herzegovina.

Lars P. Poulsen-Hansen: MA in Slavonic philology, interpreter and translator, adviser on the history and geography of the former USSR in the net edition of the Great Danish Encyclopedia, senior research associate at the Danish Institute of International Affairs (DUPI, DIIS, 1995-2005). Author of several books and articles on Russia, Russian history, politics and culture. For many years election observer in Russia.

Mikhail Gennadievich Delyagin: Dr. of Economics, economic and political consultant, founder and director of IPROG, an Institute for Globalization Problems, author of a great number of books and articles on economy, political ideology, globalization, Russia after Putin etc, many of them published in the US, Germany, France, Finland, China and India.

Irina Dubovskaya: Ph.D., Moscow State University, specialist in international marketing communication, post-graduate program director; among other things she works with Russia's image in the West – after the elections and in recent years.

Flemming Splidsboel Hansen: Ph.D. , research coordinator at the Royal Danish Defence College, earlier employed at the Central European University at Budapest and the University of Copenhagen. His research focuses on e.g. Russian foreign policy, relations between Russia and the West and projects on how norms are extended from the West to Russia.